AfriCert will maintain the terms of the quote, contract, manual, procedures and the terms of service laid out in this document to ensure its compliance and promise to all involved in its service and will enforce it as required.

3. Client Obligation

AfriCert will provide its services by their defined procedures and in accordance with prevailing recognised methods and

Client to document, implement and maintain a management system that conforms to the certification standard(s) and relevant normative document requirements for which the certificate(s) are issued. When the certification standards are changed, you are to change the management system to the extent required to conform to the revised certification standards within the time defined by AfriCert procedures or the accreditation body whichever is the shortest. The accreditation body may wish to witness an AfriCert audit at any point in time during a certification cycle; you are required to allow such a witness (but may object to the accreditation body auditor if a conflict of interest exists and provide proof of such to CB). You are to provide AfriCert auditors with guides during audit activities. If your operation changes such that the validity of the issued certificates is adversely affected (such as but not limited to Scope or location change), AfriCert should be informed in writing so that arrangements can be made to maintain the validity of the certificates. You are required to make available records of complaints received from their customers and interested parties to AfriCert upon request. Reports and supporting audit documentation generated during the audit remain the property of AfriCert.

4. AfriCert Obligations

4.1 Evaluation and appointment of auditors

AfriCert evaluates its auditors according to its requirements for a qualified and trained auditor to conduct all audits with competency, consistency and fairness. AfriCert will appoint an auditor based on your scope and applicable ISO standard/s, this auditor/s may change at AfriCert's discretion, which will not be at your cost. If you request a change in auditor/s, you must do so within at least a 30-day written notice before the next audit, if you agree to pay any cost incurred by AfriCert to appoint a new auditor. If no auditor is available, AfriCert will decline such a request.

4.2 Audit dates and Site Visits

A Schedule/Programme (contained in the Audit Report) will be put in place relevant to all sites applicable to you based on their applicable standard/s, this will be agreed to through the date confirmation communicated to you via email and signed by both parties (Client and CB). These visits are lined out in the quote and contract.

In each visit, you will provide AfriCert and its auditor/s access to all areas of the location, site, data and records, which also includes any material and equipment deemed applicable by the auditor/s to comply with your standard's needs and requirements.

Change of audit date/s for the site visit/s can be communicated to either party but the following needs to be taken into account:

- If you request to change the date of the site visit: you must give AfriCert written notice not fewer than 2 weeks before the agreed-upon audit date or provide notice in terms of quotation cancellation/ postponement periods, to avoid these additional costs. If this is not communicated in time you may be liable to pay for the cancellation which will be for the originally booked visit. This, however, cannot be done if it will impede the validity of your certificate (audit cycle).
- If AfriCert changes the date of the site visit: AfriCert can notify you 24 hours before the scheduled audit was booked and propose the new date for confirmation. In the case where additional audits need to be booked based on non-compliance to the standard, AfriCert will notify if a special, extended, transition or scope change audit is needed. You will be charged for the additional audit based on the costs stipulated in the quote.

4.3 Short Notice and Witnessing audits

If AfriCert deems it necessary to perform a short notice audit, you will permit the auditor/s to the relevant site and allow access to all relevant information. In some cases, a witnessing audit will take place and AfriCert will notify you that its accreditation body will observe the audit. AfriCert will also inform you of the identity of the observer and any requirements you might need to complete before the audit takes place. Any confidentiality obligations on the observer will be put in place to the same extent as AfriCert's auditor/s before any audit. You will not be charged additionally for the observer witnessing the audit.

4.4 The Auditors' Health and Safety

Hazardous Work Environments: AfriCert and the auditor/s must be made aware of any hazards and risks the auditor/s will be exposed to, who will be supervising them and communicate all personal protective equipment required before the audit takes place. You will immediately notify AfriCert in the event of an accident or an incident on your premises which could pose a risk to the auditor/s.

AfriCert and by association the auditor/s have the right to abort/ prematurely terminate the audit if, while on your premises, the auditor has reason to believe that you aren't complying to the health and safety rules or if the auditor's health and safety is at risk in any way then they will abort/ prematurely terminate the audit. Other reasons for aborting the audit may include Bribery, Ill behaviour or misconduct from you or your personnel during an audit, You will be notified during the audit and via email of the reason for the audit's termination. Another reason would be poor communication during a remote/ virtual audit (Poor internet connectivity / Loadshedding). In this event, AfriCert has not breached the contract and you will be charged for this terminated audit accordingly. You will remain in communication with AfriCert and report back when the issues have been resolved, only then will the auditor return to conduct the audit.

4.5 The Auditors' Premises Requirements

Before the audit takes place, you must inform AfriCert and audit team of any reasonable security or health and safety requirements related to visiting your premises including project sites. AfriCert will do the best in its ability to observe and adhere to all health and safety rules as well as any security requirements that you have in place. If applicable areas up for auditing are not made available or are restricted such as any office location, project site, data and/or records, which also includes any material and/or equipment the audit will be aborted. If the contract and quote require a visit to a third party's premises, you will represent, warrant and undertake that you have a relationship with the third party and will permit AfriCert to attend the premises of said third party for the applicable audit. If these rules or any other requirements, prevent AfriCert from providing its services, AfriCert will have no alternative then to abort the current audit, in which case AfriCert will not be in breach of the agreement.
